HackerRank  +  Dropbox

Dropbox is building the smart workspace that transforms the way people work.

“

HackerRank’s Developer Skills Platform empowers us to access and assess more students from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds. With HackerRank, we’re able to qualify top talent virtually, and reach more schools without expanding budget or on-site presence. This also allows us to connect with students who we traditionally would not have noticed.

“

At Dropbox, we receive thousands of applications every year and HackerRank's Developer Skills Platform helps us at the top of the funnel by leveraging the creativeness of our internal engineers to create some really thought provoking and fun assessments. There are a lot of strong candidates out there who specialise in one coding aspect or another. We are looking for generalists who have a broad mastery of the craft - this is where HackerRank helps us drill down on the right candidates.

“

HackerRank seems to have been ahead of the curve since their platform enables virtual recruiting and always has, even when we were all still in the offices. Remember those days? :)
